Heritage College Student to carry the Olympic Flame

Heritage College is proud to announce that Social Science student Caitlin Tolley has been chosen to carry the Olympic torch in Ottawa on Saturday, December 12, as a member of the Odawa All Nation's Warriors team.

The Vancouver 2010 Olympic Torch Relay team recently confirmed that she will be one of the lucky torchbearers to carry the Olympic Flame in the Ottawa segment of its remarkable 45,000 kilometre journey. Starting from Bank Street at Lansdowne Park between 3 and 4 p.m. on Saturday afternoon, Caitlin and her team mates will be running and exchanging the flame within a total distance of one kilometer to finish at Torrington Place on Queen Elizabeth Drive.

The 2010 Olympic Torch Relay team has congratulated her as “an everyday champion of positive change in [the] community” and Heritage congratulates her too!

Way to go Caitlin!
